South Ossett Infants Academy

I hope you had a lovely half term break! It is so nice to know that the daylight hours are getting longer and that we are starting to see signs of spring. Thank you for joining us for Parents' Evening. We hope they were informative and that you liked looking through your child's workbooks to see the progress that they are making.

The money raised from the Book Fair has meant that the school has been given £279 commission to spend on books for the school. We will be supplementing class libraries as well as the school library in the hall. Thank you for your support.
